

May 13 - Physios Also Provide Care for Children

Paediatric physiotherapy is effective in the management of perinatal conditions, conditions diagnosed in early childhood, injuries sustained throughout childhood and the transition to adult care. Paediatric physiotherapy improves physical function and quality of life. Its long-term benefits are significant and include reducing disability and the need for surgery or other more costly invasive interventions.

<http://therapybc.ca/discipline-specific-resources/>

There are many physiotherapists who specialize in paediatric care. Consult with your physiotherapist to find out more on how your baby, child or teenager can benefit from a physiotherapy care.

Read this physiotherapist's insights on Children's Health and How Physiotherapy is Beneficial.

Physios also Provide Care for Children

Click to see the full National Physio Month Calendar

PHYSIOTHERAPY
ASSOCIATION OF
BRITISH COLUMBIA