

May 5 - Physio at Home! Also Via Telehealth

Some physiotherapists offer mobile services, in which they provide in-home treatment to patients who are unable to leave their houses. Another way of receiving physiotherapy from home is via Telehealth, sometimes known as Telerehabilitation or Virtual Care. This new-ish concept in health care is on the rise in Canada and many physiotherapists have started to offer Virtual Care to their patients. You can find a physiotherapist that offers virtual care on our website by selecting 'Virtual Care' in the 'Advanced Search' section of our Find a Physio tool: <https://bcphysio.org/find-a-physio>
